Financial aid is intended to assist with educational costs that remain after the student's Expected Family Contribution (EFC) has been taken into account. The main factor in determining a student's EFC is his/her reported income for the previous calendar year. In reviewing your request for financial aid, we found your (and your spouses', if married, or parent's) income for the previous calendar year to be unusually low. In order to continue processing your awards, you must explain how you were able to meet your expenses for the year. Please complete the information below.
